BIM in Statutory Submissions
Mr. David Fung
 Chairman of HKIBIM
 BIM has been adopted by the industry for long in design, co-ordination and construction. Not until recently BIM has gradually been accepted in the Statutory Submission. With the issuance of BIM guidelines and practice notes from the authorities, how can the professionals and industry respond to the statutory requirements that has been established for decades? What are the limitations? On the other hand, from the approval authority perspective, to what extent can BIM be accepted for submission purpose?
